Innovation

is the best way to lead a traditional company into the future. What started in 1939 with a sawmill in Szombathely (Hungary), has developed into one of Middle and Eastern Europe's largest board manufacturers supplying the furniture and building industries. With a passion for wood, the raw material with which we work, and utilising modern technologies for today's and tomorrow's markets, our team consistently brings forth innovative new product ideas. Our passion can be seen in every single board we produce.

The outcome speaks for itself; engineered wood-based panels of FALCO are technically sophisticated products for modern furniture and interior design.
For the "modern way of living".

Life in the modern world demands an uncompromising attitude toward environmental protection: we utilise timber from sustainable sources, managed forests and renewable natural resources and only produce products that can be recycled.

We live our responsibility for a material that has supported us for more than 70 years. It is good to see that our work touches people: Interior design and furniture are built from our designs and from your ideas.
